Belgium Sends Combat Troops to the Congo

BRZSAVILLE, Congo (AP)—Belgium rushed combat troops to the Congo today to help African authorities in the new republic maintain an uneasy truce with malicious native soldiers.

Panic-stricken white settlers told of rape, riot and humiliation at the hands of Negro soldiers. Several thousand whites—mostly women and children—fled. Then a nighttime curfew was clamped on Leopoldville and the city was reported quiet.

The refugees came across the swirling Congo River by ferry from Leopoldville, capital of the new Congo Republic, to Brazzaville, capital of this autonomous territory soon to gain independence from France.

Others landed by plane in Luanda, capital of neighboring Portuguese Angola. Commercial airlines joined in an airlift from the Congo, whose 13 million people gained independence from Belgium 10 days ago.

Two big U.S. Air force transports were dispatched to Brazzaville to help the evacuation. About 2,000 Americans are believed in the Congo, with 200 in Leopoldville. No Americans were reported harmed. Many of them have taken refuge in the U.S. Embassy.

Congolese soldiers invaded the embassy seeking a photographer, but U.S. Ambassador Clarke Timberlake reportedly talked them down and they left.

From Brussels a detachment of Belgian infantry volunteers, armed with automatic weapons and dressed in combat uniforms, were flown to the Congo.

Communication between Leopoldville and the outside world was sporadic and uncertain.

But by all accounts, Friday was a day of chaos in Leopoldville, with native soldiers in control of the city for a time.

The Belgians reported via their diplomats and the state radio that calm was restored after Congo President Joseph Kasavubu talked to the troops, who have been grumbling for pay raises and demanding dismissal of their white officers.

The police plan was for the army chief of staff to be a European officer and the commander of the big Leopoldville military base to be a Congolese noncommissioned officer. The Congo has no officers of its own in the 25,000-man army.

Kasavubu appealed to the populace for order. Most stores and offices were closed down, and Kasavubu urged people to return to work.

Department Store Sales Top 1959

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis reports department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District in the first six months of 1960 topped sales in the same period of last year by one per cent.

The bank reported sizeable gains in the district for the week ended July 2, as compared to the same week of last year.

The district as a whole gained 12 per cent. The St. Louis area was up 4 per cent, Louisville, up 44 per cent, Memphis up 11 per cent, Little Rock up 11 per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities, up 18 per cent.

Buffalo Makes Study of Vice

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The State Investigation Commission has concluded a six-day public hearing at which it presented testimony to show that vice was rampant in Buffalo and law-enforcement was extremely lax.

But Police Commissioner Frank Pellicetta told reporters Thursday after the hearing ended that he did not know whether there would be "any sweeping changes as a result of the investigation."

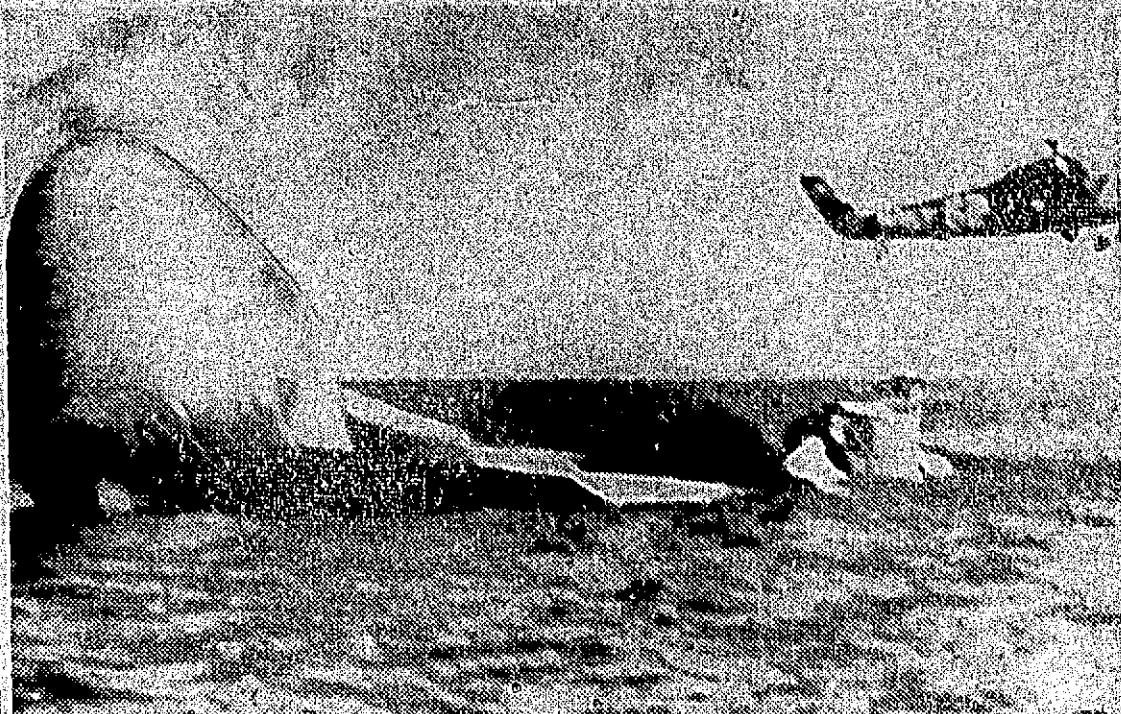

"I believe I have an excellent staff, doing a fine job," he said.

Sheriff's Office to Stay Open

Sheriff Jimmie Griffin stated that his office would be open through noon hour during the sale of truck and trailer license all this month.

Weather

ARKANSAS — Partly cloudy with slowly rising temperatures through today.

BLIMP CRASHES — A Navy helicopter hovers over a sinking blimp that crashed into the Atlantic 15 miles southeast of Barnegeat Inlet, N. J. The huge radar craft, one of the world's largest blimps, carried a crew of 21. One was known dead, 17 were missing and feared dead. Three of the crew members were rescued. The blimp had been seeking two yachts which later were reported safe.

RESCUED — These two wet and cold dogs gave an exciting display of handlicking and tail-wagging gratitude when rescued from floating debris in Slayton, Texas. The dogs apparently were left behind by residents of a low-lying section of the city who evacuated their homes when they became flooded by runoff waters from more than 12 inches of rain.

County Farm Loans Total $255,290

Loans totaling $255,290 were made by the Farmers Home Administration to farm families in Hempstead County during the 1960 fiscal year, according to Mr. N. N. Daniel, the agency's county supervisor.

Borrowers repaid $80,406 during the year on loans of all types obtained from the Farmers Home Administration. Their repayments on loans came mainly from the sale of dairy products, beef cattle and soy beans. Improvements which Hempstead County farmers have achieved, Mr. Daniel said, include better dairy herds, better housing for themselves and their livestock and equipment, improved pastures, and other improvements that assure better net income and more satisfactory living levels.

Throughout the county are many farm families who have borrowed in former years and are still making scheduled repayments. Many other families now farming in Hempstead County, and who had borrowed from FHA have now repaid their loans in full and are financing their needs through banks and other lenders.

The bulk of the funds borrowed are in operating loans, those made to pay costs of feed, seed, machinery and equipment, and fertilizer, pesticides, livestock, to make recommended adjustments in farming systems. Loans during the year to meet this type of need totaled approximately $135,580.

Farm real estate loans during the year amounted to $119,710. Farmers use these loans to improve or purchase farm or farm land, to build or repair farm dwellings and to finance other essential farm construction, to install or repair irrigation systems, level land, establish good fields, and otherwise improve farms.

Shotgun Blast Fatal to Negro

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—An apparently accidental shotgun blast struck and killed Robert Earl Benton, 6, a Negro yesterday.

He was shot in the forehead by a 16 gauge shotgun in a house at nearby Urbana.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Stevens said the boy had been warned that the weapon was loaded.

The boy was the son of Mrs. Fannie Mae Benton of Urbana.

Both Senators to Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Both Arkansas senators will attend the Democratic National Convention at Los Angeles beginning Monday. Neither is a delegate.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who is a delegate, still hadn't said today whether he will be at the convention.

Sen. J. William Fulbright said at Washington that he and Mrs. Fulbright would fly to Los Angeles late today.

Fulbright declined to say whom he will support or to make any prediction on the presidential nominee.

Sen. and Mrs. John L. McClellan stopped at Little Rock yesterday on route to Los Angeles for the convention.

McClellan said he thought a ticket of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas for president and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for vice president would be the strongest for the Democrats.

If Faubus goes to Los Angeles he probably will fly.

Thinks Korea Blocking Own Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Korean government's monetary and trade policies are blocking Korean economic recovery, a congressional staff report charged today.

The report says Korea's monetary exchange rate and a refusal to trade with Japan are offsetting the economic aid being pumped into the country by the United States.

The report, based on a seven-week survey of Korea, Iran and Thailand by staff members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, was released today. The survey was conducted late last year before the overthrow of Korea's Syngman Rhee government. The policies referred to, however, are still in force.

The team found conditions more favorable in Thailand and Iran, but it did cite some examples of "false, hypocritical and maladaptive" in saying the economic recovery has been blocked for years.

It placed the blame for deficiencies in the economic aid program on what it called faulty administration and lack of coordination among the many agencies involved, and recommended the International Cooperation Administration be given over-all responsibility in the field.

Thinks East, West Might Agree Now

MOSCOW (AP)—A group of visiting Americans quoted Soviet First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan today as saying he believes East-West talks have reached a point where an agreement banning nuclear weapons tests could be signed.

The Americans, who talked with Mikoyan for three hours in the Kremlin Thursday, said he added that if President Eisenhower should order resumption of U. S. nuclear tests, the Soviet Union would be obliged to do likewise.

The President would "place himself under the fire of world opinion."

Mikoyan has been acting chief of the Soviet government in the absence of Premier Nikita Khrushchev on a visit to Austria. John Crutcher of Hutchinson, Kan., said Mikoyan's main theme was that the prospect of war now has become so horrifying as to make it abhorrent to all mankind, and that thus the Soviet Union is proposing complete and universal disarmament.

"The American group visiting Mikoyan was led by Jerome Davis, who was head of the American YMCA relief activities in Russia at the time of the 1917 revolution and who interviewed Joseph Stalin in soon after Stalin assumed full powers several decades ago. Three years ago Davis and his group had a three-hour interview with Khrushchev.

Castro Flatly Rejects U.S. Protests

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government Thursday night rejected the U.S. protest against seizure of American and British oil refineries in Cuba and charged the foreign oil companies were trying to "retreat Cuba to colonial dependence on foreign economic interests."

Foreign Minister Raul Roa said the United States of America, "false, hypocritical and maladaptive" in saying the economic recovery has been blocked for years.

Roa also rejected a British protest against the seizure, but only the note to U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal was made public. Bonsal and British Ambassador Stanley Fordham protested on Tuesday against the seizure of the American-owned Esso and Texaco refineries and the British.

Democratic Battle On at Los Angeles

By JACK BELL

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy lightened the cotton around his rivals today as he convened his halting over the Democratic presidential nomination battle in a climax.

No matter where his opponents turned for support from uncommitted delegations, Kennedy's astute operators already had made their effective calls.

As the acknowledged front runner, the Massachusetts senator—due here today—could point to linked-up support in every area still regarded as political open range in advance of the convention's formal opening Monday.

If the phalanx leaders of delegations from California, Minnesota, Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania consented to turn their ranks loose, there seemed little doubt that Kennedy would gather a substantial majority of them into his camp.

These five states could provide 203 of the needed 701 votes for nomination. For a man whose bitterest enemies concede him around 600 on the first ballot, Kennedy regarded any delegate-freeing action in this group with high satisfaction.

To keep Kennedy from storming the nomination fortress on the first convention tally, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and other aspirants counted heavily on Minnesota and New Jersey from these five.

In addition they hoped that Kennedy would lose 20, would stick with favorite son governors until there was a chance for a realignment after the initial roll call. They professed to believe that Kennedy would lose support in Indiana, Maryland and Ohio on a second countdown.

But if they had any other major reserves on which to draw, they were unable at the moment to point them out. Theirs was at best the hope that something might turn up quickly which would drain away the imposing lead Kennedy had built up.

Kennedy scheduled what promised to have all of the trappings of a triumphal entry to Los Angeles during the day. His forces obviously intended to trump the rousing reception given Johnson when he swept into town Friday with the pronouncement that "I'll get it"—meaning the nomination.

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri was following his advance guard into this cauldron of boiling politics. Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri, running in preference, said with a show of conviction, "I believe we can nominate Stuart Symington."

The list of scheduled arrivals also included Adlai E. Stevenson, who has had two successful shots at the nomination and seems increasingly eager to accept a draft. Burke, O. W. Butler, and Cecil of blowing open convention doors.

Marine at Nazi Rally Kicked Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps has given a general discharge on grounds of "unsuitability" to Pfc. John C. Patsulas of New York, the Defense Department said today.

A spokesman said Armed Forces Police, acting on a report by an unidentified spectator, escorted Patsulas from an American Nazi party rally which the spectators said Patsulas was attending here on May 30.

Gen. David Shoup, Marine Corps commandant, approved Patsulas' discharge July 6.

An investigation into his Marine record was conducted at Quantico, Va., where Patsulas was stationed at the time.

Shoup approved the recommendation that Patsulas be given a general discharge "under honorable conditions for reasons of unsuitability," the spokesman said.

A Marine spokesman said the unidentified spectator reported that Patsulas was present, wearing civilian clothes, at the rally led by George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi Party.

Rockwell is a former Navy Reserve officer, who held the rank of commander at the time he was dropped from reserve ranks last Feb. 5.

Secretary of the Navy William Franke approved a recommendation of a Navy Status Board that Rockwell be discharged as a reservist.

'Little Piggies Going to Market' Is Much More Than a Child's Game Nowadays

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"This little pig went to market" is more than a child's game to many. Take for instance R. E. Butler, III, 2, who has the largest commercial hog farm in Southwest Ark.

On the subject of pigs going to market, Mr. Butler uses a multiple farrowing system so that he has pigs going to market each month. "This evens out the labor," he explained. He has a farrowing house with 2,000 square feet of concrete floor.

How long does he keep his pigs entirely in confinement on concrete? From birth to market, which is about five months. That is certainly hog farm modernization, all will agree.

And the results are pleasant so the system must be good. When the pigs are seven to eight months old, they are bred most satisfactorily, he has found, and he usually gets four to five litters per sow until they are culled.

The national champion hog raiser for 1959 averaged 11 pigs per litter, while on the Butler farm one group of 11 sows weaned 123 pigs or 11.18 pigs per litter. That would make anyone proud, don't you think?

J. F. Butler started raising hogs on a large scale on his 40-acre farm in April of 1959, just a little more than a year ago. He has 74 sows and three boars of the Land Race and Poland China breeds. The former breed is obtained from Iowa, but the latter is raised at the University of Arkansas. Sows are of these two breeds plus the Duroc, and some crossbreeds.

Hog farms are so fancy these days that the four legged fellows now live in "pig parlors." That's right. It's the name used in all seriousness. Mr. Butler has three of these "parlors" for a total of 6,700 square feet in all the houses.

This is one of several such farms in the county that operates on a similar program. Owners of these farms include John C. Beavers, Horace Fuller, J. C. Burke, O. W. Butler, and Cecil and Kenneth Cox.

Proper selection of breeds, good care, and correct management are the principal factors leading to the success of a hog farm. Besides the monetary returns, the most pleasant aspect of the business for a farmer is the satisfaction of growing and feeding livestock and seeing the good results, according to Mr. Butler.

This type of farming "brings home the bacon" in more ways than one.

Khrushchev Accused by America

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev of trying to "conduct foreign relations by threat rather than negotiation."

A spokesman declared Khrushchev has made several threatening remarks recently which appeared designed "to influence international affairs in the free world countries."

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the Khrushchev remarks he had in mind included a threat to make a separate peace treaty with East Germany if the West German Parliament should hold a meeting later this year in West Berlin.

White would not specify the other threats he said Khrushchev has made. Other officials, however, noted that Khrushchev has threatened to send Soviet soldiers into neutral Austria if U. S. rocket bases in Italy were used to attack Communist countries.

Herter, Ike Will Discuss Cuban Crisis

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will discuss the Cuban crisis at a conference here this weekend.

James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, today announced plans for the conference at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters.

The meeting will be held Sunday or Monday, Hagerly said. Herter, now on vacation at Manchester, Mass., plans to return to Washington Saturday and will come to Newport from the capital.

Hagerly also announced the President will meet with Dr. George B. Kistiakowsky, his science adviser, and about 16 members of the Science Advisory Committee next Tuesday. Hagerly described that conference as routine.

Hagerly did not elaborate about the forthcoming discussion of the Cuban crisis. He said Eisenhower and Herter also will talk over other international problems.

W. Memphis Has Hospital Fund Priority

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Crittendon County Hospital at West Memphis has first priority on any new federal hospital construction funds, an official of the State Health Department said today.

Eugene Spritt, director of the division of hospitals, said Crittendon County wants to build a $250,000 addition to its present facility.

Forty per cent of this is available locally and the other 60 per cent would be from federal Hill-Burton hospital assistance funds.

Spritt explained that priorities are assigned on the basis of need for hospital beds in 39 areas into which the state is divided. Population in the West Memphis area has expanded greatly in recent years.

He said that applications had been received for approximately $2 million dollars of any new money, which he added was more than the state would get.

Congress recessed for the national political conventions without taking final action on new Hill-Burton funds. Action is expected when the session resumes in August.

The House passed a bill under which Arkansas share would be $72,700,624 the Senate a bill which would give the state $73,295,526.

The bill now is in conference and under normal procedure the final allocation probably will be somewhere between House and Senate amounts.

Faubus' Pal Signs Final Paper Ad

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The final newspaper advertisement of a series lauding Gov. Orval E. Faubus appeared today, signed with the name of Associate Justice Jim Johnson of the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Johnson is a staunch backer of Faubus who once defeated him for governor. Johnson, an outspoken segregationist and advocate of states' rights, has said that Faubus could be elected president.

Faubus has been publicly cold to suggestions that he try for president, either by seeking the

Nikita Warns U. S. He Will Back Castro

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned today that "Soviet artillery" meaning rockets—could hit the American mainland if the United States moved against Cuba.

In a broadcast speech, Khrushchev said Soviet support for Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and warned the United States to keep its hands off that Caribbean republic.

Amid cheers, he told a meeting of school teachers in the Kremlin that this month's missiles test off the Pacific showed that the Soviet Union had rockets which could hit targets accurately at a distance of 14,000 kilometers (about 8,000 miles). This would enable them to strike the heartland of the United States.

"Now the United States is not so unreachably as it once was. Speaking figuratively, in case of necessity, Soviet artillery can support with their rocket fire the Cuban people if aggressive forces in the Pentagon dare to start intervention against Cuba," Khrushchev said.

Khrushchev charged that the United States is attempting to strangle Cuba with an economic blockade and added:

"We will help our Cuban brothers fight an economic blockade, and the blockade will be a failure."

The Soviet Premier charged "the people of the Latin American countries are living in poverty because American monopolists are living in richness."

He attacked New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for allegedly suggesting economic reprisals against Cuba. Khrushchev said this was a flagrant example of "monopolist mentality."

He went on to say that despite United States opposition to the "Socialist camp" is mightier than ever before.

Speaking of the entire Soviet bloc, he said: "We on our side will do our best to support Cuba. Nobody will succeed in strangling the Cuban people."

The Soviet Premier, who returned from a visit to Austria Friday, led into this section on Cuba by denying that his speeches in Austria attacking the West violated Austrian neutrality.

This charge had been made by the United States.

"If somebody is interfering in internal affairs of another country," he declared, "then it is the United States in Cuba."

W. H. Gunter Dies Friday Here In Hope

W. H. Gunter, Sr., 68, died today in a local hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Gunter, a veteran of World War I, was the part owner of a lumber company here and held extensive timber interests.

He was also on the board of directors of the First National Bank.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. John McClellan officiating. Burial will be in the Memory Gardens Cemetery under the direction of Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home.

Survivors are his widow; two sons, W. H. Gunter Jr., and Bill Gunter of Hope; five brothers, Frank and John Gunter of Atlanta, Tex., J. A. and Henry Gunter of Hope, and Wiley Gunter of McNeil; three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Johnson and Mrs. T. A. Jackson of Hope, and Mrs. J. A. England of Texarkana; and five grandchildren.

Annexation in Pulaski Approved

He is a candidate for a fourth term as governor, and two of his four opponents have charged that he is behind the ads, which until today were signed by non-Arkansians.

Faubus has ignored the charge. Today's ad in the Arkansas Gazette said that "since 1957 we in Arkansas have come to know, with great pride, that the people of our sister Southern states consider our governor as partly theirs too."

"We commend you, with a sense of great pride," the ad concluded, "to the South as its people seek a common leader in the forthcoming national convention of the Democratic Party."

"You're our governor, but we know that in a very real sense, you belong to all of the South."

"We know our cause is in safe hands."

Silent on Making State a University

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today that backers of university status for Arkansas State College were justified in their ambition, but wouldn't commit himself about his stand on the issue.

Faubus told a news conference that he would listen to arguments for and against the university proposal.

"I realize there is sincerity on both sides," he said.

The governor got in a plug for his fourth term bid with a statement that the "overall improvement of industrial and economic climate in Arkansas had made it possible for boosters of university status to justify their campaign."

"Naturally," he said, "there will be a question in some people's minds as to whether the state has reached a position financially to support two universities."

Faubus said he was willing to receive information, pro and con, on the matter and that it wouldn't require years of study to make a decision.

The governor stopped here during a tour of Craighead County.

Meany Sees Big Rise in Unemployed

By OVID A. MARTIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—APL-CIO President George Meany predicted today that government unemployment figures will show a "frightening" jump of nearly one million during June. This increase, he said, would be the largest May to June jump in the jobless total since end of World War II.

Urging government policies keyed to stimulating greater economic growth, many said the country is on the road to stagnation, not to growth.

Other sources indicated they expect the jobless figure will jump from about 3 1/2 million to about 4 1/2 million and the unemployment rate to soar to about 5 1/2 per cent of the nation's work force.

Meany's criticism of present economic conditions was made in testimony for a convention resolutions committee which has indicated it will endorse a plank promising to stimulate the economy.

In similar testimony before the committee Thursday, Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers said economic policies of the Eisenhower administration have slowed industrial growth to a point where the nation's future is threatened by a more rapid Communist expansion in this area.

Meany's unemployment forecast and warnings of possible further downturns took platform attention for the time being from a potentially explosive tussle over civil rights plank.

A parade of nearly 40 witnesses appeared before the drafters Thursday to demand that the party pledge itself to use of full powers of the federal government — legislative and executive as well as the courts — to eliminate racial discrimination in schools, employment, housing and other fields of life.

This demand brought a grave but calm warning from Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida that a plank of this nature would drive many Southerners from the party.

In another facet of the economic situation, President James G. Patton of the National Farmers' Union called for a farm plank pledging to boost agricultural prices and income. He recommended a return to wartime and postwar government farm price supports and crop controls.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stewart and sons entertained the Kiwanis Club and their families with the annual outing at their lake side home on Lake Greason.

Boating, swimming and water skiing were enjoyed throughout the day. At noon there was a picnic lunch.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

My parents and I want your advice. We have recently moved here. A nice boy from the high school I formerly attended has been writing me regularly. The other day he and his family invited me to spend a couple of weeks with them during the summer. I would like to go very much and my wonderful parents would like to let me. Would it be proper for a girl of 16 to accept such an invitation? —P.T.

Dear P. T.: I can best answer you by saying that I had a similar invitation when I was 16 and lived in New York. The mother of a boy I liked invited me to Washington to see him graduate from Central High School. He was to lead the cadet corps in a parade. A big moment for him—and me.

My mother wrote, accepting for me. It was my first trip away from home. I shall always remember the thrill of being, as I felt, on my very own.

So by all means go visit your boy friend and his parents. It would be courteous for your mother to accept for you. Also, it would show that your parents approved. I hope you have as good a time as I did.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

How can a man look at the hate in his wife's eyes and live with her? I know some people think the things they read in your column just couldn't be true — like a man wondering why his wife doesn't want him after his love-making with other women.

Parisians write letters, catch up on the news and visit with friends while they sip tea or coffee. Our tourist (center) stops at a cafe to rest after a sightseeing trip. She wears perforated leather walking shoes for cool comfort. To lunch with French friends (right), she brings along a loaf of French bread in true Parisian style. And she stops in a doorway to admire the courtyard. Her shoes are pale beige and white casuals in brushed leather. She'll see Europe with pleasure and in complete comfort.

Bogus Money Problem in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democratic convention managers are taking elaborate precautions to prevent counterfeiting of credentials to next week's nominating sessions.

J. Leonard Reinsch, executive director of the convention, outlined the security plans today and acknowledged that part of the program involves a last minute distribution of badges and tickets to give counterfeiters less time to practice their art.

At the 1952 Democratic convention, realistic-looking ribbon badges were hawked on the streets outside Chicago's International Amphitheatre. The result was a traffic jam on the convention floor.

Security measures were tightened in 1956 and have been made more elaborate this year.

For one thing, the laminated plastic badges which will admit delegates, convention workers and newsmen to the floor will be specially treated so secret identifying marks can be spotted under special lights.

Convention officials also have delayed passing out spectator tickets lest someone try to duplicate them. The design of the tickets has been made more intricate than for past conventions.

If you're one of the lucky gals who's combining vacation with a first trip to Europe this summer, make sure that you sight-see and shop in comfort. Many of the streets in European cities are paved not with cobblestones but with cobblestones. And cobblestones can wreck high-heeled pumps in two days. This smart girl (left) starts out on a picture-taking tour in Paris wearing washable white leather spectator pumps with comfortable mid-heel. One of the great joys of Paris is to be found in its sidewalk cafes under leafy green trees. In them,

Waves Tip Boat, Five Men Drown

SALTILLO, Tenn. (AP)—Waves whipped up by gusty north winds capsized an outboard motorboat on the Tennessee River yesterday, drowning three of five men aboard.

Two men swam safely ashore. The bodies of the other three were recovered last night in a rescue operation involving 10 boats and 30 men.

The Highway Patrol identified the dead as John D. Jumper, 34, deputy fire marshal at Wilson, Ark.; Joe (Junior) Dennis of Saltville, and Charlie Jumper, 36, of Spring Hill, Tenn., near Jackson.

Carlos McMinn, 28, of Columbia, Ill., and Buddie McMinn, 26, of Steele, Mo., fought their way to shore through the rough water.

The five men were out checking trout lines. They were in a 15-foot boat driven by two outboard engines.

GENTLEMAN

Clarence Budington Kelland

THE STORY: Marvin Leeds, a lawyer, calls on Artemus Baldwin with a proposition which he calls a "business opening." Artemus, a Secret Service operative, knows Leeds has had his luggage searched and has found a bogus dodger which identifies Baldwin as a wanted criminal.

Chapter XII "Sweet Lips Chavez," said Artemus, "did a stretch for the Yaqui caper. I hear he's dead." Leeds bent his brows as if in an effort to remember. "The name," he said, "isn't familiar to me."

"What do I get to know?" Artemus asked. "You know me," Leeds said. "That'll do for the present."

"Take it or leave it, eh?" Artemus said. "There's Chicago to think about," Leeds said blandly. "You read all that paper said?" Artemus asked.

"It said you were a dangerous man," Leeds was genial. He might have been carrying on an amiable conversation with a friend. He shrugged and held out both his palms with an expressive gesture. "Watch," he said. "Watch closely." There was a blur as his left, not his right,

Williams in Challenge to Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—H.E. Williams today challenged Gov. Orval E. Faubus to a public debate on whether the governor's policies have helped the Communist cause.

Williams tossed the gauntlet in a prepared statement issued by his campaign headquarters at Little Rock.

The Walnut Ridge educator, one of four men opposing Faubus' drive for a fourth term, said a failure by Faubus to accept the debate challenge would "be considered by the public as an admission of inexcusable guilt and an evidence of unmitigated cowardice."

Apparently Williams implied that Faubus' handling of the Little Rock school integration dispute had furnished ammunition for Communist propagandists. The charge has been made several times in the current campaign.

Faubus could not be reached for comment.

Williams' statement followed a telecast by the governor last night. In it, Faubus reiterated charges that Williams had criticized aspects of the Rural Electrification Administration program, welfare methods and veterans' medical benefits as part of a drift toward socialism in this country.

The Williams statement termed these charges "false and misleading."

Williams repeated an earlier challenge. That one said he would pay Faubus $1,000 if the governor could produce a single public statement which condemned the REA, welfare or veterans' benefits.

The educator's debate challenge proposed that he and Faubus meet in Little Rock on or before July 21.

Williams said this would be the topic: "Resolved that the Faubus administration has aided the Communist cause substantially and if policies and practices of the Faubus administration are carried to their logical conclusion, they would destroy the United States government and the American way of life."

The word Mormon is a combination of the English word "more" and the Egyptian word "man," which means "good"—thus, "more good."

presidential chances of Adlai Stevenson who was then the front-runner for the nomination.

"I don't think he can win," Truman said.

Stevenson got the nomination. And on Aug. 17 Truman stood before the convention and said:

"Stevenson is a real fighter. And I ought to know. Any man who can take this convention the way he did should be able to take the Republicans next fall."

Trouble was, Truman was right the first time, as President Eisenhower proved by swamping Stevenson in the November election. Since Truman is just as nimble as ever it wouldn't be surprising if he winds up at the convention this year fighting for the nomination of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas although he came out for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri long ago.

Whosoever Will may come to Church Whosoever Will may come to God...

of course it is, but it brings with it a staggering challenge... the individual responsibility of helping save civilization. The terrible "dark days" following the fall of the Roman Empire would be termed "good days" compared to the period of destruction that would follow the loosing of our hydrogen weapons. We must face it. In a manner we must be our own saviour. Then let us kids not quibble.

We must cheerfully accept the task. If we keep our eyes fixed on God and our ears tuned-in to His direction center, we can be the deterring force He needs to save the world from destruction. For He said, "Him that lacketh wisdom, let him ask of God." The varied programs of the church offer opportunity to gain this wisdom and understanding of God and His plan of salvation for the world. You have a part to play. Get inside His field of service... attend church regularly. For, "The wise in heart will receive Commandments."

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
